June 24, 2009 5—7 p.m.

Humanitarian Aid is not a crime:

Life and Death on the US/Mexico border

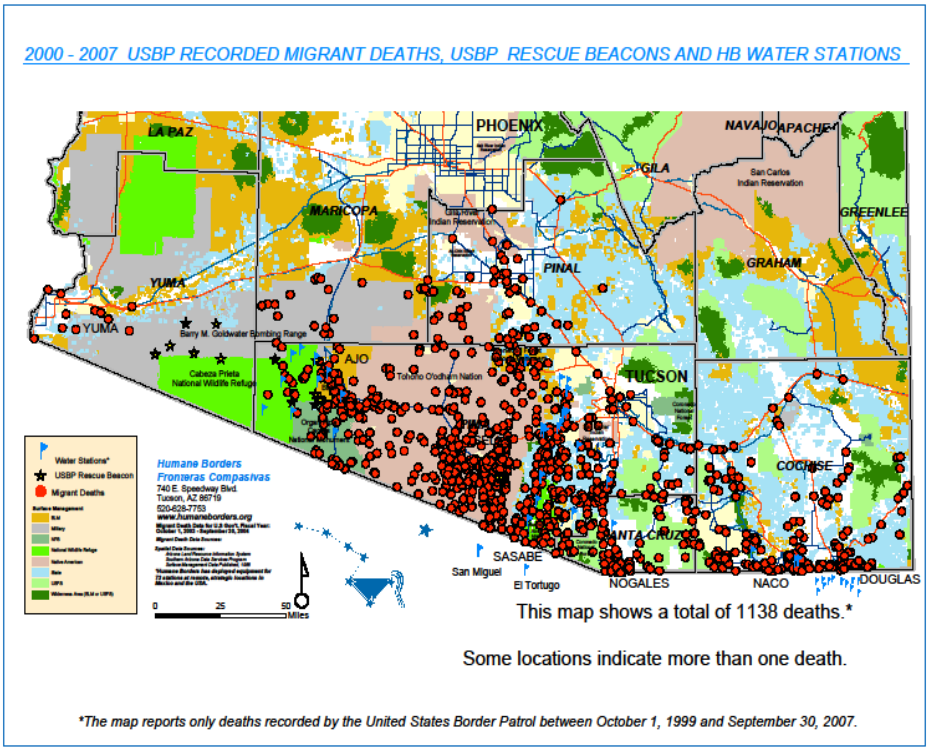
Location:
Arte y Cultura
Cooperativa de
Artesanos Latinos
1823 S. Park St.

A public presentation and exhibit of an altar that was created to honor Latino immigrants who risk their lives crossing the Sonoran desert in Mexico/Arizona in hopes of finding a better life in the US.

The exhibit was created by students from Edgewood College who travelled to the border in March 2009 to learn about the lives of Latino immigrants and provide humanitarian aid to immigrants crossing the desert.

For more information, contact:
Rachel Rodriguez, PhD, RN
Faculty, Edgewood College
School of Nursing

Email: rrodriguez@edgewood.edu
Phone: 663-4275



The map was created by Humane Borders in Tucson, Arizona

Sponsored by: Edgewood College School of Nursing
And Edgewood College Human Issues Program